Planning for Crossover Meeting – July 8, 2008 – Darden School of Business, General Purpose Room

Both old and new council members are asked to attend this meeting. It is suggested that we have "ice breaker" exercises that might include the answer to the following question from departing council members and those staying on council: what is one piece of advice that council members have taken away from council?

It was also suggested that we cover the history and purpose of the Council such as being the second oldest Council of the University, accomplishments covered, and ways to keep those serving on Council engaged.

Guest speakers for the upcoming year were discussed. Marge Sidebottom would like to return and talk more about Emergency Preparedness. Libba Bollin was also suggested as a guest speaker for the recycling and going green efforts of the University.

The suggestion was made for combining councils so that we all could hear the same speakers at the same time.

Next Meeting
