wwwweb

The University of Virginia serves more than one million people every year through more than 400 public service and outreach programs. For more information about outreach at UVA, visit <http://www.virginia.edu/outreachvirginia/>, an interactive web-based listing of public service programs searchable by region, interest, audience, or type of program. Some programs listed in the database include the following:

The Religious Movements Website

The Religious Movements site provides a foundation for understanding how religious groups emerge, grow, stagnate, reinvigorate themselves, and sometimes die.

Historical & Cultural Perspectives on Current Events in Pakistan & Afghanistan

A mini-course for educators, consisting of evening seminars. Local area teachers can earn recertification points for attending all six lectures.

After Violence Book Series

The After Violence free book series is designed by and for survivors of violence. These books talk about violence and how to live with its effects. Copies are available online and in hardcopy.

Institute on Violence and Survival

From the perspective of the humanities, the Institute on Violence and Survival strives, through cross-cultural research and education, to understand and illuminate the experience of violence.
