Why Lyon?

France's second largest city, Lyon is immersed in a rich historical and cultural tradition all its own. With approximately 1 million inhabitants, Lyon has the liveliness and energy of an urban setting yet avoids some of the pitfalls of the Paris metropolis. Housing is more affordable, the pace of life a bit slower, cultural life is abundant, and the cuisine every bit as good, if not better! Lyon has the reputation of being the gastronomic capital of France. In Lyon, the university is just one part of a diverse, lively city and, as a result, American students will not hear English spoken at every café terrace as might occur in some other common destinations for study abroad in France.

UVA in Lyon

Summer 2009

June 20 - July 18
(4 week program)

June 20 - August 1
(6 week language program)

Hosted by:
Université Lyon II

2009 Lyon Summer Program

Experience first-hand the momentous changes occurring in today's Europe while gaining an historical and culturally based understanding of these changes for French society. Lyon, France's second largest city - whose historic center is a UNESCO world heritage site - provides an ideal location for the study of contemporary France as well as its rich historical and cultural traditions.

Courses taught by UVA faculty and instructors from the Université Lyon II will offer students broad and in-depth analyses of France's role in an expanding Europe, contemporary French society and political culture, and the historic treasures of Lyon itself. Students will explore the challenges facing France today as they strive to maintain - and redefine - a cultural identity forged by history while simultaneously becoming full citizens in Europe.

The Lyon Program is specially designed by UVA faculty to complement the university curriculum. This program allows students to earn UVA credit and grades (not transfer credit) while being immersed in the cultural life of France.

UVA faculty will accompany student participants, making this an ideal experience for students who have not yet traveled to France or who are still learning French. For those students who are seasoned travelers and have more well-developed language skills, this program also offers opportunities for advanced study and time for independent travel.

Pre-requisites

Please check ISO website for all course pre-requisites.

Housing

Students will be housed in a business-class residential hotel located in a convenient area of the historic district. The Cercle Villemanzy offers single studios with kitchenette, TV and private bathroom. It also provides common facilities (gym, lounge with cafeteria, reading room, laundry), along with meeting rooms and conference rooms.

Travel

All courses will include field trips, cultural events, and local speakers. Excursions, integrated into the curriculum, will most likely include a day-trip to the Vercors and an overnight trip to Annecy. Independent travel to Paris, a mere 2-hr TGV trip from Lyon, is encouraged either over a long weekend or upon completion of the course.

Application Procedure

Students must attend a General Information Session prior to completing the UVA Study Abroad application. Sessions are held M-Th, from 2:00-3:00PM during each semester. Meeting locations and the application can be found on-line at:

www.studyabroad.virginia.edu

Applications are due no later than March 15, 2009, but may be submitted on-line at any time prior to the due date. Further application information is available on-line.
