

THE HEDGEHOG REVIEW

CRITICAL REFLECTIONS ON CONTEMPORARY CULTURE

Dear Acquisitions Librarian or Department Head,

I recommend that our institution subscribe to THE HEDGEHOG REVIEW (ISSN #1527-9677), an award-winning interdisciplinary journal that explores the most pressing issues and questions of the day. Since 1999, THE HEDGEHOG REVIEW has produced three issues per year, each addressing a central theme or question, with articles, interviews, book reviews, and bibliographies written by leading scholars and cultural critics from throughout the humanities and social sciences.

THE HEDGEHOG REVIEW poses hard questions, pursues knotty controversies, and pushes intellectual discussions beyond their current impasses, making it a unique resource for those concerned with making sense of the puzzles, perplexities, and promises of our time.

THE HEDGEHOG REVIEW is indexed by Humanities International Complete, MLA International Bibliography, Sociological Abstracts, World-wide Political Science Abstracts, International Political Science Abstracts, International Bibliography of Social Sciences, the Gale Group, and EBSCO Publishing.

Two-year institutional subscriptions cost $75; one year is available for $40. More information, including full tables of contents for all issues, is available online at <http://www.virginia.edu/iasc/hedgehog.html>. Inquiries and subscription requests may be addressed to:
