2007-08 TTI RFP Not Announced Yet.

The Teaching + Technology Initiative (TTI) at the University of Virginia is a partnership between the Office of the Vice President for Information Technology and Communication and the Office of the Vice President and Provost. TTI is administered jointly by ITC's Instructional Technology Group and The Teaching Resource Center. The people involved in the administration of the TTI come from various academic and administrative units throughout the University. Supported by funds made available through the University's restructuring efforts and from the Commonwealth of Virginia, the Initiative provides assistance to a core group of faculty, chosen through a yearly proposal process, who are interested in developing new computer-based paradigms for teaching and learning.

TTI also contains the Teaching + Technology Support Partners (TTSP) program as a component for the development of graduate students to support faculty in their departments.