COMMITTEE: External Affairs

AGENDA ITEM: II.A. Philanthropic Cash Flow

BACKGROUND: The Senior Vice President will review cash flow for the period July 1, 2000, through June 30, 2001, with a specific emphasis on measuring performance compared to the three previous fiscal years.

DISCUSSION: In the six months following the conclusion of the Campaign, University fundraising continued aggressively. On June 30, 2001, despite the end of the Campaign and a weakening economy, Fiscal Year 2001 closed with a gift total of $189.9 million, more than $40 million ahead of stated goals for the year. The Senior Vice President will analyze cash flow totals and examine projections for Fiscal Year 2002.

BOARD MEETING: October 18, 2001

COMMITTEE: External Affairs

AGENDA ITEM: II.A. Benchmarking Performance

BACKGROUND: The University of Virginia gained national recognition during the Fiscal Year for the effectiveness of its programs and for the success of its Campaign. The Council for Aid to Education gathers fundraising data from all educational institutions in the country, making it possible to compare the University’s performance with that of its peers.

DISCUSSION: The Senior Vice President will examine the University’s performance as compared to peer institutions, both public and private, in a variety of giving areas. In addition to the U.S. News and World Report grouping, the Senior Vice President will measure the University’s performance against a group of other selected public schools and against a unique set of peer institutions with similar characteristics in size and programs.

BACKGROUND: The Virginia 2020 Arts Commission produced a detailed report clearly envisioning the academic future for the arts at the University. This document, which listed arts facilities as its top priority, is the intellectual foundation for the Arts Grounds Campaign.

DISCUSSION: The Senior Vice President will introduce Mr. Charles Fitzgerald, Associate Vice President for Development, who leads the Arts Grounds Campaign Team. Mr. Fitzgerald will address the objectives and challenges of the Arts Grounds Campaign, including projected timelines and estimated costs for major capital projects.

AGENDA ITEM: II.C. Performance Assessment

BACKGROUND: Each summer, at the close of the Fiscal Year, the University Development and University Relations Offices assess progress made during the previous Fiscal Year in each of their operations, as well as in comparison to general goals established for that year. Progress is measured through statistical data, as well as by programs and projects completed.

DISCUSSION: On December 31, 2000, the University successfully concluded its first billion-dollar Campaign with $1.43 billion in gifts, pledges, and future support. With the close of the Campaign, the University Development Office began a transitional period in fundraising, designed to meet the needs resulting from continued growth in the University’s programs. The Senior Vice President will highlight the accomplishments and challenges of Fiscal Year 2001.

AGENDA ITEM: II.D. University Logo

BACKGROUND: The offices of University Development and University Relations took the lead in developing a new logo designed to give the University a specific "brand" identity which could be adopted independently, or incorporated into the separate logos of the different schools and units, across Grounds. First unveiled at the President's "State of the University" address in April 2001, the logo has been widely embraced; and efforts to secure pan-University implementation continue into Fiscal Year 2002.

DISCUSSION: The Senior Vice President will introduce the new logo and some of its variations and will demonstrate, by example, the different ways in which the logo can be incorporated into the various unit identities to create a unique University image.
