Final Exercises at U.Va.
College students gather on the north side of the Rotunda before the procession.
The procession begins, led by the class banner.
School of Medicine students march in from the Rotunda with Graduate School of Arts & Sciences, Law, and Darden students entering from the alleys.
Architecture, Engineering, and Commerce School students process down the Lawn.
Engineering School students process as standing-room-only guests look on.
The College procession begins
The procession continues, flanked by standing-room-only guests
Students from the College fill the Lawn
Guests look on as the procession continues.
Students from the College prepare to find seats on the south end of the Lawn.
Faculty members proceed, surrounded by guests and students.
Students and guests await the start of the ceremony.